

TEN YOUNGSTERS ARRESTED FOR CHALKING OF PORCHES

There must positively be no violation of the law in the observance of Hallowe'en in Charleroi, and today Burgess J. J. Hott makes another statement concerning the matter, which is a little stronger than the one issued the first of this week. There will be no destruction of property, and the removing of signs or gates, or in any way the injuring the belongings of individual, or firm, will not be permitted. There must be no chalking of porches and the boys must be extremely careful in their behavior to escape arrest and punishment. There will be extra policemen employed for the night and each of them will be under special instructions to arrest all offenders.

Last night a number of boys of ages varying from ten to sixteen years were arrested for chalking porches and will have hearings on Friday night before the Burgess. They will be made to suffer in accordance to their deeds of mischief. It is positively against the law to chalk porches or injure property in this manner and the offenders will be made to feel the penalty for their misdeeds.

Following is the statement of Mr. Hott:

Notice to the public.

All sports during Hallowe'en must be mild, and destruction of property will not be tolerated. Persons who are guilty of removing gates, signs, wagons or outbuildings, or of the making of unsightly pictures or marks on buildings or windows, will be arrested and punished according to law. There will be special officers on the force who will look after violators.

J. J. Hott, Burgess.

HORSE MAY DIE FROM EFFECTS OF BRUTAL BLOW

As the result of a fearful blow on the forehead, apparently by a sledge hammer, William H. (Tip) Wickerham, who is well known as the efficient policeman at Eldora Park last year, will likely lose a valuable horse. Tuesday night the horse strayed from Mr. Wickerham's pasture, and wandered around over the vicinity. Later it was seen to enter the yard of Mrs. Allie Wilson and suddenly drop to the ground as if shot. She notified neighbors and it was learned that the animal was Mr. Wickerham's. When discovered the animal was gasping for breath and seemed to be in great agony. Examination revealed the injury which will no doubt cause its death. Attention was given.

Mr. Wickerham is unable to account for the strange injury to the animal. He will make an investigation however and if the one who is guilty of the crime of striking the horse is found, it will go hard with him.

SUPPLEMENTAL BILL FILED IN LENHART CASE

District Attorney States what Matters Will Be Brought Out.

TRIAL AT NOVEMBER TERM

Attorneys For The Defendant Accept The Bill Of Particulars.

District Attorney C. L. V. Acheson has filed a supplemental bill of particulars to the original bill of particulars that was filed prior to the former trial in the case of the commonwealth against O. F. Piper and W. L. Lenhart. It will be recalled that in the previous trial the jury disagreed and this supplemental bill of particulars sets forth additional matters the commonwealth expects to bring forth in the retrial which will be at the coming term of criminal court.

The following are the matters set forth in his supplemental bill:

"1—That the 'kiting' of checks drawn by William L. Lenhart was permitted by O. F. Piper, cashier, by reason of the conspiracy and corrupt agreement between them, the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper.

"2—That William L. Lenhart used the names of H. C. Fox, Henry C. Fox and M. L. Burd on checks and negotiable paper, the proceeds of which in money or its equivalent became the sole property of the said W. L. Lenhart, which fund were paid out by and were the property of the Peoples Bank of California, Pa., and came into the hands of the said W. L. Lenhart by reason of the conspiracy and corrupt understanding and agreement between the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper, cashier.

"3—In furtherance of the corrupt agreement and conspiracy between the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper, the said W. L. Lenhart arranged for and had printed certain forged letterheads and printing, purporting to be the genuine letterheads and printing of the banking department of the state of Pennsylvania, upon which forged letterheads the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper prepared and signed a letter purporting to come from the said banking department of the state of Pennsylvania, and submitted the said forged letter to the board of directors of the Peoples bank of California, Pa., to cover up and conceal the joint embezzlement of the funds of the said Peoples bank of California, Pa., by the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper and to further facilitate the corrupt obtaining of the money of the said Peoples bank of California, Pa., by the said W. L. Lenhart."

Attorneys Irwin and Wiley, who represent the defendant, filed acceptance of the bill and copy of the same.

ACCUSATION OF BAD CONDUCT OF PUPILS UNJUST

Citizens Intimate School System Is Not What It Should Be.

SUPT. WRIGHT'S DEFENSE

Parents Have Charge Of Children At Night, Not The Teachers.

Some citizens of the borough have been charging pupils of the Eighth Grade and the High School with disorderly conduct and mean tricks, with a very pronounced intimation that there is something wrong with the schools. Why the schools should be brought into the lime light in such a manner is more than I am able to understand? There are some serious things wrong with the schools not only in Charleroi but other places too. But as for the conduct of children on the streets at night the schools have no authority and should not have any. If parents and police cannot control this, how can you expect the schools to do so? We do not have anything in the course of study which teaches children to celebrate Hallowe'en in such a manner.

No teacher approves of such conduct. They advise against it, but when parents encourage their children in such things by allowing them to run the streets, how can we expect a teacher's advice to be followed. Indeed, I think it injures a teacher's influence to give advice and have the parents go directly against it. If parents, teachers, health protectors, and police were to all work in harmony, I feel sure that many things which cause discomfort and unrest to some of our citizens could be easily eradicated.

As to the charges against the eighth grade and the High School, I wish to say (whether I am capable of judging or not) that during my experience in your schools we have never had a better influence in these particular grades than may be found there now. We have never had any more nor any better work done. We have never had any better class of children. We have investigated the charges and have found only one pupil of these grades implicated. May we all get together and do something.

Some acts of a questionable character have come to my notice, and I am sure that the teachers all stand ready to help prevent the repetition of such acts, with whatever influence they may have. And we most earnestly plead with parents to take an especial interest in the conduct of their respective children, for in this alone can we find a solution for this unnecessary mischief.

The authority of the teacher ceases when the children arrive home from school.

Respectfully,
W. D. Wright.

Accident As The Result Of Rules Being Violated

George Bowsafsh, a Poland 38 years of age is in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela, suffering from injuries received yesterday in an accident in the Ellsworth No. 1 mines. Bowsafsh was requested by a chum who operates a motor in the mine to take a ride with him and they started in the mine. Bowsafsh fell off the car and had one leg so badly crushed, that amputation will be necessary, and had the other fractured. The other man with whom he had ridden was arrested and is now in the Ellsworth lockup pending prosecution by the Coal company. The taking of another person on the motor car is a direct violation of the mining laws.

NEWSPAPERS OF COUNTY TELL OF THE BOLTER

This is how two Republican newspapers of the county size up the efforts of Congressman Acheson to induce the voters to cut the regular ticket:

"The complex on the present campaign has taken should give every sincere Republican an incentive to do everything in his power to elect his ticket. National State and County this fall. A great many external factors have been injected into the real issue and every effort has been made to divert the attention of voters from what is actually at issue, the election of Taft, members of congress and members of the Legislature. The election of any Democrat has never remedied any state or national evil. It is particularly necessary that these voters go to candidates for congress and the Legislature. The candidate for congress is a man of ability, a banker, a business man living in a locality in which the vital interests of his constituents are most thickly scattered. John K. Tener is the only candidate that incarnates the idea of his district in its real sense. There is no other candidate from a business standpoint, that is before the electors of the district. Washington County has too many interests of vital importance to 'bite off its nose to spite its face' at a juncture of this kind. Vote the straight ticket."—West Alexander Call.

"Just now to gratify his political spleen and to punish the fellows who refused to take orders from him, but preferred to stand upon their own manhood, Mr. Acheson is urging the Republican voter to cut his ticket."

"Mr. Republican voter, are you going to be browbeaten and bulldozed by he who for a quarter of a century has preached 'organization' and proclaimed 'party regularity' as the only way in Washington County to achieve or receive political recognition or preferment? With Boss Acheson, then, everything was the organization: now, he is shouting from the housetops for independence, and mugwumpism, and coalitionism, and Democracy, and Prohibitionism, and local optionism."

Vote the straight Republican ticket, and rebuke, to a finish the Bolter."—Washington Journal.

Large Number Is Going To Rally

The Cry of the Beaten.

Apparently realizing that the popular tide is running hopelessly against him and that his third candidacy is to be extinguished with his third defeat, Mr. Bryan emits a cry that a huge corruption fund is being raised by the republicans, and that if he is beaten it will be because of the use of money of the control of votes.

Practically he thus says to a considerable proportion of those whom he recently reckoned as his supporters that he regards them as venal and criminal, that the votes of a million or more of them are purchasable, and that if he is beaten he shall regard them as bribe-takers who ought to be disfranchised and sent to jail for their crimes. That seems to be a pretty bad opinion for a conspicuous statesman and patriot to have concerning men whom he has acclaimed as his own followers, and we should think that his public expression of it would not greatly ingratiate him with them or commend him to their support. But let us be charitable. Perhaps Mr. Bryan doesn't mean what he says on that subject any more than on some other subjects. Perhaps he is simply depressed and disheartened and has his nerves worn to a frazzle, and therefore blurts out unpleasant things of which in his more buoyant and joyous moments he would not even think. If such be the case we would counsel him to cultivate optimism and to remember that the next best thing to being a winner is to be a good loser.—New York Tribune.

MINE FIRE IS EXTINGUISHED BY FLOODING PLACE

The mine fire which has been raging in the Banning No. 1 mine, a twin of the ill fated Darr mine, at Jacobs Creek where an explosion occurred last winter which resulted in the loss of nearly two hundred lives, was yesterday extinguished by flooding the place.

The opening was enlarged yesterday morning and water pumped in, so that the flames were literally drowned. The fire started last Friday and much damage was done.

The mine is owned by the Pittsburgh Coal company, the same corporation which owned the Darr mines. The origin of the fire is said to have been from dry leaves which had been piled up by the wind in one of the air shafts, these being ignited by brush fires.

CHARLEROI PERFORMERS AT STAR TONIGHT

There is an interesting bill at the Star Theatre this week and one that will be especially pleasing to Charleroi people. It is headed by Miss Norma Grey, formerly of this place, who has a refined singing specialty. Miss Grey was a singer at the Palace Theatre here for some time and was a universal favorite. Upon leaving she was engaged by the Sun circuit and is making a hit wherever she goes. Morgan and West in an eccentric comedy sketch are among the best that are on the circuit and are a scream wherever they appear. Lew Hoffman is a comedy juggler of note and has a most pleasing act.

Another Charleroi performer will be on at the Star tonight, in the person of Joseph Franks, age 12 years. He is a clever performer on the cornet and will appear on the stage tonight for the first time. New song by Miss Marion Laughlin.

The political pot boils merrily and
the candidates are lining up for their

one to succeed the man who for the
past twelve years has been dominat-

Facts Will Come Out.

There will evidently some terrible
facts come out in connection with the
work of the night riders of Tennessee,
when the man who was arrested last Thursday as an accomplice in the murder of Capt. Quentin Rankin,
Monday night a week ago, comes up
for trial. Yesterday the man made a confession in which he implicated
about forty residents of the Lake
county district, Tennessee, and told
some of the harrowing details of the tragedy. The government officials
have been trying hard to break up the practice of the night riders and have
not had the success that they would
desire. It is hoped that the confession of the one who was caught and
who is evidently one of the members
of the band of night riders will
aid in the capturing and conviction of all the men who compose
this organization.

Tariffs to be Filed.

A Critic's Evasion.
It is risky to give one's honest opinion about a man's horse or dog, a house designed by himself or a picture
which he values highly. He who gives
the opinion stands on a slippery place,
and should the judgment be unfavorable he will slide far from the man's esteem.

Fusell, the eccentric artist and professor of the Royal academy, was invited by a nobleman to see a painting
of which he was the proud owner. Fusell went, taking a pupil with him. The painting was shown by the nobleman
himself. The artist examined it and exclaimed, "Extraordinary!" The no-
bleman, greatly pleased at the ejacula-
tion, lauded the picture to the skies,
pointed out its beauties, and Fusell
cried: "Extraordinary! Extraordinary!"

On their way home the pupil said:
"Mr. Fusell, I don't think much of that picture. What did you mean by 'extraordinary'?"

"Extraordinarily bad," was the reply
of the artist, who had not cared to
offend a lord who might become a patron.

The Great International Success "The Devil" is coming Monday, November 2 to the Monessen Opera House to play a return engagement. The theme of Molnar's play, as seen from a most hurried glance at the manuscript, indicates that there is plenty of work to do for an enterprising and witty devil. The play is purely realistic symbolism in which Satan lays aside his time honored costume and walks abroad among men, a human prototype of all the work that lies in the brain of a man or of a woman. People ask him who he is and where he comes from, whereat he laughs easily, taps a forefinger lightly on his forehead and replies, "I am here."

The play grips tightly, because it demonstrates beyond a doubt that this thing with its excellent courtesy, his polished manners and his ready tongue, is Satan the epitome of everything evil and ugly and damnable, that from childhood we have been taught to fear and abhor. And as he howls and sneers, or turns a iester brilliant epigram through the three acts of the play, you know that the case of these creatures who are absolutely human is hopeless, and that they are being drawn irresistibly toward the ruin which the devil has planned and will execute at any cost. Therein lies the fascination of the play. Seats on sale at Light's Drug Store, Donner avenue. Phone 50-R. Prices, 25, 50, 75, cents $1.00. Boxes $1.50.

AN OLD INDIAN MYTH

It Tells a Curious Story About the Creation.

MOUNT TAHOMA MADE FIRST.

Then Came the Trees, the Birds, the Fishes and All the Animals. With the Grizzly Bear the Last and the Greatest of All—The Origin of Man.

The Indians say that the Great Spirit made Mount Tahoma the first of all. Boring a hole in the sky, using a large stone as an auger, he pushed down snow and ice until they reached the desired height, then stepped from cloud to cloud down to the great icy pile and from it to the earth, where he planted the first trees by merely putting his finger into the soil here and there. The sun began to melt the snow, the snow produced water, the water ran down the side of the mountain, refreshed the trees and made rivers. The Great Spirit gathered the leaves that fell from the trees, blew upon them, and they became birds. He took a stick and broke it into pieces. Of the small end he made fishes, and of the middle of the stick he made animals. The grizzly bear excepted, which he formed from the big end of the stick, appointing him to be master over all the others.

Indeed, this animal grew so large, strong and cunning that the Creator somewhat feared him and so hollowed out Mount Tahoma as a wigwam for himself where he might reside while on earth in the most perfect security and comfort. So the smoke was soon to be seen curling up from the mountain where the Great Spirit and his family lived and still live, though their hearts are a little no longer, now that the white man is in the land. This was thousands of years ago.

After this came a late and severe springtime, in which a memorable storm blew up from the sea, shaking the huge lodge to its base. The Great Spirit commanded his daughter, then little more than an infant, to go up and bid the wind to be still, cautioning her at the same time not to put her head out into the blast, but only to thrust out her little arm and make a sign before she delivered her message.

The eager child hastened up to the hole in the roof, did as she was told and then turned to descend, but her curiosity impelled her to look at the forbidden world outside and the rivers and trees, at the far ocean and the great waves that the storm had made as hoary as the forest when the snow is on the fire. So she stopped and put out her head to look. Instantly the storm took her by the long hair and blew her down to the earth, down the mountain side, over the smooth ice and soft snow, down to the land of the grizzly bears.

Now, the grizzly bears were then somewhat different from what they are at the present time. In appearance, it is true, they were much the same, but they walked then on their hind legs like men and talked and carried clubs, using the fore limbs as men use their arms. At the foot of the mountain, at the place where the child was blown to, lived a family of grizzlies. The father grizzly was returning from the hunt with his club on his shoulder and a young elk in his hand when he saw the shivering little waif lying on the snow with her hair all tangled about her.

The old grizzly, pitying and wondering at the strange, forlorn creature, lifted it up and carried it in to his wife to see what should be done. She, too, was pitiful and fed it from her own breast, bringing it up as one of their family. So the daughter of the Great Spirit grew up, and the eldest son of the old grizzly married her, and their offspring was neither grizzly nor Great Spirit, but man.—Forest and Stream.

An Original Oath of Allegiance.

In the old days when the Spanish province of Aragon was a proud and independent monarchy the people used when choosing their king the following singular form of election:

"We, the freeborn inhabitants of the ancient kingdom of Aragon, who are equal to you, Don Philip, and something more, elect you to be our king on condition that you preserve to us our rights and privileges. If in this you should fail we own you for our king no longer."

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a lady interest the sum soon grows to proportion, that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent. interest paid in savings department.

TEN YOUNGSTERS ARRESTED FOR CHALKING OF PORCHES

There must positively be no violation of the law in the observance of Halloween in Charleroi, and today Burgess J. J. Hott makes another statement concerning the matter, which is a little stronger than the one issued the first of this week. There will be no destruction of property, and the removing of signs or gates, or in any way the injuring the belongings of individual, or firm, will not be permitted. There must be no chalking of porches and the boys must be extremely careful in their behavior to escape arrest and punishment. There will be extra policemen employed for the night and each of them will be under special instructions to arrest all offenders.

HORSE MAY DIE FROM EFFECTS OF BRUTAL BLOW

As the result of a fearful blow on the forehead, apparently by a sledge hammer, William H. (Tip) Wickerham, who is well known as the efficient policeman at Eldora Park last year, will likely lose a valuable horse. Tuesday night the horse strayed from Mr. Wickerham's pasture, and wandered around over the vicinity. Later it was seen to enter the yard of Mrs. Allie Wilson and suddenly drop to the ground as if shot. She notified neighbors and it was learned that the animal was Mr. Wickerham's. When discovered the animal was gasping for breath and seemed to be in great agony. Examination revealed the injury which will no doubt cause its death. Attention was given.

BOWLING LEAGUE FORMED YESTERDAY

There is to be a purse of $175.00 to be divided as follows, the team winning first place to receive $50; 2nd, $35; 3rd, $25; 4th, $15.

Prizes for high individual average. $15.00; high individual score, $15.00; high individual team, $20.00.

Friday night before the Burgess. They will be made to suffer in accordance to their deeds of mischief. It is positively against the law to chalk porches or injure property in this manner and the offenders will be made to feel the penalty for their misdeeds.

Following is the statement of Mr. Hott: Notice to the public. All sports during Halloween must be mild, and destruction of property will not be tolerated. Persons who are guilty of removing gates, signs, wagons or outbuildings, or of the making of unsightly pictures or marks on buildings or windows, will be arrested and punished according to law. There will be special officers on the force who will look after violators.

SUPPLEMENTAL BILL FILED IN LENHART CASE

District Attorney States what Matters Will Be Brought Out.

TRIAL AT NOVEMBER TERM

Attorneys For The Defendant Accept The Bill Of Particulars.

District Attorney C. L. V. Acheson has filed a supplemental bill of particulars to the original bill of particulars that was filed prior to the former trial in the case of the commonwealth against O. F. Piper and W. L. Lenhart. It will be recalled that in the previous trial the jury disagreed and this supplemental bill of particulars sets forth additional matters the commonwealth expects to bring forth in the retrial which will be at the coming term of criminal court.

The following are the matters set forth in his supplemental bill: "1.—That the 'kiting' of checks drawn by William L. Lenhart was permitted by O. F. Piper, cashier, by reason of the conspiracy and corrupt agreement between them, the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper. "2.—That William L. Lenhart used the names of H. C. Fox, Henry C. Fox and M. L. Bird on checks and negotiable paper, the proceeds of which in money or its equivalent became the sole property of the said W. L. Lenhart, which fund were paid out by and were the property of the Peoples Bank of California, Pa., and came into the hands of the said W. L. Lenhart by reason of the conspiracy and corrupt understanding and agreement between the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper, cashier. "3.—In furtherance of the corrupt agreement and conspiracy between the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper, the said W. L. Lenhart arranged for and had printed certain forged letterheads and printing, purporting to be the genuine letterheads and printing of the banking department of the state of Pennsylvania, upon which forged letterheads the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper prepared and signed a letter purporting to come from the said banking department of the state of Pennsylvania, and submitted the said forged letter to the board of directors of the Peoples bank of California, Pa., by the said W. L. Lenhart and O. F. Piper and to further facilitate the corrupt obtaining of the money of the said Peoples bank of California, Pa., by the said W. L. Lenhart."

Attorneys Irwin and Wiley, who represent the defendant, filed acceptance of the bill and copy of the same.

REPORT FILED IN DIVORCE CASE

Warren Sharpless, commissioner in the divorce proceedings of Josephine Miller against Joseph Miller of Monongahela, has filed his report and the case has been ordered on the argument list. Desertion is the ground alleged for divorce.

TENDER THE MAIL A VOTE OF THANKS

The Klu Klux Klan of Monongahela, at a meeting last night made final preparations for their visit at Homestead on Halloween. A vote of thanks was unanimously tendered the Mail for the article published in this paper last night concerning this organization.

High Boots Douglas. Yesterday in a practice game the Charleroi High School football team defeated the Douglas college team by the score of 6 to 0. The score was made on a field goal by Douglas, and a safety.

ACCUSATION OF BAD CONDUCT OF PUPILS UNJUST

Citizens Intimate School System Is Not What It Should Be.

SUPT. WRIGHT'S DEFENSE

Parents Have Charge Of Children At Night, Not The Teachers.

Some citizens of the borough have been charging pupils of the Eighth Grade and the High School with disorderly conduct and mean tricks, with a very pronounced intimation that there is something wrong with the schools. Why the schools should be brought into the lime light in such a manner is more than I am able to understand? There are some serious things wrong with the schools not only in Charleroi but other places too. But as for the conduct of children on the streets at night the schools have no authority and should not have any. If parents and police cannot control this, how can you expect the schools to do so? We do not have anything in the course of study which teaches children to celebrate Halloween in such a manner.

No teacher approves of such conduct. They advise against it, but when parents encourage their children in such things by allowing them to run the streets, how can we expect a teacher's advice to be followed. Indeed, I think it injures a teacher's influence to give advice and have the parents go directly against it. If parents, teachers, health protectors, and police were to all work in harmony, I feel sure that many things which cause discomfort and unrest to some of our citizens could be easily eradicated.

As to the charges against the eighth grade and the High School, I wish to say (whether I am capable of judging or not) that during my experience in your schools we have never had a better influence in these particular grades than may be found there now. We have never had any more nor any better work done. We have never had any better class of children. We have investigated the charges and have found only one pupil of these grades implicated. May we all get together and do something.

Some acts of a questionable character have come to my notice, and I am sure that the teachers all stand ready to help prevent the repetition of such acts, with whatever influence they may have. And we most earnestly plead with parents to take an especial interest in the conduct of their respective children, for in this alone can we find a solution for this unnecessary mischief.

The authority of the teacher ceases when the children arrive home from school.

Respectfully, W. D. Wright.

Accident As The Result Of Rules Being Violated

George Bowafsh, a Polander 33 years of age is in the Memorial hospital at Monongahela, suffering from injuries received yesterday in an accident in the Ellsworth No. 1 mines. Bowafsh was requested by a chum who operates a motor in the mine to take a ride with him and they started in the mine. Bowafsh fell off the car and had one leg so badly crushed, that amputation will be necessary, and had the other fractured. The other man with whom he had ridden was arrested and is now in the Ellsworth lockup pending prosecution by the Coal company. The taking of another person on the motor car is a direct violation of the mining laws.

NEWSPAPERS OF COUNTY TELL OF THE BOLTER

This is how two Republican newspapers of the county size up the efforts of Congressman Acheson to induce the voters to cut the regular ticket:

"The complex on the present campaign has taken should give every sincere Republican an incentive to do everything in his power to elect his ticket. National State and County this fall. A great many external factors have been injected into the real issue and every effort has been made to divert the attention of voters from what is actually at issue, the election of Taft, members of congress and members of the Legislature. The election of any Democrat has never remedied any state or national evil. It is particularly necessary that these voters go to candidates for congress and the Legislature. The candidate for congress is a man of ability, a banker, a business man living in a locality in which the vital interests of his constituents are most thickly scattered. John K. Tener is the only candidate that incarnates the idea of his district in its real sense. There is no other candidate from a business standpoint, that is before the electors of the district. Washington County has too many interests of vital importance to 'bite off' its nose to spite its face' at a juncture of this kind. Vote the straight ticket."—West Alexander Call.

"Just now to gratify his political spleen and to punish the fellows who refused to take orders from him, but preferred to stand upon their own feet, the Bolter is making the Republican voter to cut his ticket." "Mr. Republican voter, are you going to be browbeaten and bulldozed by he who for a quarter of a century has preached 'organization' and proclaimed 'party regularity' as the only way in Washington County to achieve or receive political recognition or preferment? With Boss Acheson, then, everything was the organization; now, he is shooting from the houseposts for independentism, and mugwumpism, and coalitionism, and Democracy, and Prohibitionism, and local optionism."

Vote the straight Republican ticket, and rebuke, to a finish the Bolter."—Washington Journal.

Large Number Is Going To Rally

The Republican rally to be held in Washington this evening is attracting many to that place. Several left Charleroi for that place this morning and a number more this afternoon.

The Cry of the Beaten

Apparently realizing that the popular tide is running hopelessly against him and that his third candidacy is to be extinguished with his third defeat, Mr. Bryan emits a cry that a huge corruption fund is being raised by the republicans, and that if he is beaten it will be because of the use of money of the control of votes.

Practically he thus says to a considerable proportion of those whom he recently reckoned as his supporters that he regards them as venal and criminal, that the votes of a million or more of them are purchasable, and that if he is beaten he shall regard them as bribe-takers who ought to be disfranchised and sent to jail for their crimes. That seems to be a pretty bad opinion for a conspicuous statesman and patriot to have concerning men whom he has acclaimed as his own followers, and we should think that his public expression of it would not greatly ingratiate him with them or commend him to their support. But let us be charitable. Perhaps Mr. Bryan doesn't mean what he says on that subject any more than on some other subjects. Perhaps he is simply depressed and disheartened and has his nerves worn to a frazzle, and therefore blurts out unpleasant things of which in his more buoyant and jocund moments he would not even think. If such be the case we would counsel him to cultivate optimism and to remember that the next best thing to being a winner is to be a good loser.—New York Tribune.

MINE FIRE IS EXTINGUISHED BY FLOODING PLACE

The mine fire which has been raging in the Banning No. 1 mine, a twin of the ill fated Darr mine, at Jacobs Creek where an explosion occurred last winter which resulted in the loss of nearly two hundred lives, was yesterday extinguished by flooding the place.

The opening was enlarged yesterday morning and water pumped in, so that the flames were literally drowned. The fire started last Friday and much damage was done.

The mine is owned by the Pittsburgh Coal company, the same corporation which owned the Darr mines. The origin of the fire is said to have been from dry leaves which had been piled up by the wind in one of the air shafts, these being ignited by brush fires.

CHARLEROI PERFORMERS AT STAR TONIGHT

There is an interesting bill at the Star Theatre this week and one that will be especially pleasing to Charleroi people. It is headed by Miss Norma Grey, formerly of this place, who has a refined singing specialty. Miss Grey was a singer at the Palace Theatre here for some time and was a universal favorite. Upon leaving she was engaged by the Sun circuit and is making a hit wherever she goes. Morjan and West in an eccentric comedy sketch are among the best that are on the circuit and are a scream wherever they appear. Lew Hoffman is a comedy juggler of note and has a most pleasing act.

Another Charleroi performer will be on at the Star tonight, in the person of Joseph Franks, age 12 years. He is a clever performer on the cornet and will appear on the stage tonight for the first time. New song by Miss Marion Laughlin.

Notice. The Grand Red, White and Blue Masquerade reception will be held in the Bank of Charleroi Hall Saturday evening, Oct. 31. 6543

Cheer Up.

"Cheer up." That expression may be heard frequently on the streets and in the shops. What matters it if there is an election approaching and William is to be elected. You can vote all the same and then go buy a Coco Cola with your last nickel and feel happy. "A pessimistic growler has no place in this world," some one has said and the truthfulness of the statement is made apparent daily.
There is no one that wants a person
around who is continually bewailing his fate and the hard luck which keeps him in a little two by four office when he knows very well, and everyone else except the hard headed old man who runs the affairs of the corporation where he receives his monthly salary, is aware of, that he is worth just about triple the amount he is getting. He couldn't smile—it would break his face; he couldn't say a pleasant word to some poor sufferer, because he is too grouchy and he couldn't enjoy life because things are not run right.

Let them give you a chance, you pessimistic old chronic and you would do wonders toward straightening the financial conditions of the country.
Yes you would. You old reprobate, you would run it into the ground the first day, because you had spent all your miserable existence growling at the existing conditions instead of getting up on social affairs and the events of interest to decent people, that are daily transpiring in the country.

Be an optimist and don't spend your entire time growling because things do not suit you, but try to adapt yourself to them.

Very Much Tangled.

The political pot boils merrily and
the candidates are lining up for their final fight, in one of the quietest campaigns that has ever been held. The fight for Congress is quiet for the reason that the real fight came off last spring when the voters of this 24th district declared a Charleroi man, big in every sense of the word, the
one to succeed the man who for the
past twelve years has been dominating the Republican party and consequently the people in this county.
This defeated candidate is still fighting however, not for himself, but for one of other tickets, in his earnestness to defeat the ones who came out winners over his slate, incongruously

Facts Will Come Out.

There will evidently some terrible
facts come out in connection with the
work of the night riders of Tennessee,
when the man who was arrested last
Thursday as an accomplice in the murder of Capt. Quentin Rankin,
Monday night a week ago, comes up
for trial. Yesterday the man made a confession in which he implicated
about forty residents of the Lake
county district, Tennessee, and told
some of the harrowing details of the
tragedy. The government officials
have been trying hard to break up the
practice of the night riders and have
not had the success that they would
desire. It is hoped that the confession of the one who was caught and
who is evidently one of the members
of the band of night riders will
aid in the capturing and conviction of all the men who compose
this organization.

Newspaper Changes Policy.

Yesterday morning the Washington
Record, for over three years the main Democratic newspaper in this county,
came out under new management,
with the political policy of the paper changed entirely, so that now it is a stalwart Republican journal.

The editor under the new regime is J. W. McKay, formerly connected with the Waynesburg Times and a newspaper man of considerable experience. We welcome the change, brother, and wish for you much success in the new order of things.

Wake Up.

The Donora News has a new type-setting machine and the Monongahela Times in a recent issue of their esteemed journal, speaking as if they really knew, congratulates the enterprising brother journalist at Donora
and informs the public that the News is the first paper in this part of the valley to install a typesetting machine. Wake up, Times, the Mail has had a machine for over six years.

Tariffs to Be Filed.

Tariffs will be filed with the interstate commerce commission Saturday
regarding important changes in rates
and rules for shipping on the railroads, to become effective December
1. This action is in accordance with the ruling of the commission, requiring 30 days' notice of changes in rates.
The strictest secrecy is being observed as to the changes made,
but it is predicted by railroad officials that there will be a number of changes in the rates on California
products to points east of the Mississippi river, including Pittsburg, New York and Philadelphia.

pounds.

Rivermen Expect Raise.

Rain is expected during the next two days and rivermen are in high hopes of a coalboat stage. The rains experienced so far have served to break the ground and fill the pools and whatever rain comes within the next few days will make a raise.
Everything is prepared for a big coal shipment and it was predicted yesterday that there would be coal leaving port within the next seven days.

A Critic's Evasion.
It is risky to give one's honest opinion about a man's horse or dog, a
house designed by himself or a picture
which he values highly. He who gives
the opinion stands on a slippery place,
and should the judgment be unfavor-
able he will slide far from the man's
esteem.

Fusell, the eccentric artist and professor of the Royal academy, was invited by a nobleman to see a painting
of which he was the proud owner. Fu-
sell went, taking a pupil with him. The
painting was shown by the nobleman
himself. The artist examined it and exclaimed, "Extraordinary!" The no-
bleman, greatly pleased at the ejacula-
tion, lauded the picture to the skies,
pointed out its beauties, and Fusell
cried: "Extraordinary! Extraordinary!"

On their way home the pupil said:
"Mr. Fusell, I don't think much of that picture. What did you mean by 'extraordinary?'"

"Extraordinarily bad," was the reply
of the artist, who had not cared to
offend a lord who might become a patron.

The Devil Coming.
The Great International Success
"The Devil" is coming Monday, November 2 to the Montegen Opera House to play a return engagement. The theme of Molnar's play, as seen from a most hurried glance at the manuscript, indicates that there is plenty of work to do for an enterprising and witty devil. The play is purely realistic symbolism in which Satan lays aside his time honored costume and walks abroad among men, a human prototype of all the work that lies in the brain of a man or of a woman. People ask him who he is and where he comes from, whereat he laughs easily, taps a forefinger lightly
on his forehead and replies, "I am here."

The play grips tightly, because it demonstrates beyond a doubt that this thing with its excellent courtesy, his polished manners and his ready tongue, is Satan the epitome of everything evil and ugly and damnable, that from childhood we have been taught to fear and abhor.

And as he bows and sneers, or turns a restor brilliant epigram through the
the case of these creatures who are absolutely human is hopeless, and that they are being drawn irresistibly toward the ruin which the devil has planned and will execute at any cost.

Therein lies the fascination of the play. Seat on sale at Light's Drug Store, Dornier Avenue. Phone 50-R.

COME IN COATLESS GO OUT COATED

That's the way our customers do when they buy "ALCO SYSTEM CLOTHES." They feel the need of a Fall overcoat, and if it rains they would need another, so we combine the two in this one garment, and it is a great success—in various fabrics, $10.00 to $22.50.

Buying "ALCO" ready-to-wear clothes is better than patronizing a tailor—its quicker and more satisfactory. Besides it is hardly wise to waste the time and pay tailor's price for made-to-measure garments when you can buy our high grade "ALCO" clothes for less money and still have all the hand-tailored niceties that go with fine clothes.

We have Fall styles in all the handsome new colorings, perfect in fit and outline, for young men, men and older men—$10.00 to $25.00.

SWEATERS—The new coat style for men and boys in all colors. The very best values ever offered—Boys from 25c to $1.25; men's 50c to $5.00.

AN OLD INDIAN MYTH

It Tells a Curious Story About the Creation.

MOUNT TAHOMA MADE FIRST.

Then Came the Trees, the Birds, the Fishes and All the Animals, With the Grizzly Bear the Last and the Greatest of All—The Origin of Man.

The Indians say that the Great Spirit made Mount Tahoma the first of all. Boring a hole in the sky, using a large stone as an auger, he pushed down snow and ice until they reached the desired height, then stepped from cloud to cloud down to the great icy pile and from it to the earth, where he planted the first trees by merely putting his finger into the soil here and there. The sun began to melt the snow, the snow produced water, the water ran down the side of the mountain, refreshed the trees and made rivers. The Great Spirit gathered the leaves that fell from the trees, blew upon them, and they became birds. He took a stick and broke it into pieces. Of the small end he made fishes, and of the middle of the stick he made animals, the grizzly bear excepted, which he formed from the big end of the stick, appointing him to be master over all the others.

Indeed, this animal grew so large, strong and cunning that the Creator saw that it was too big and so he followed out Mount Tahoma as a wigwam for himself where he might reside while on earth in the most perfect security and comfort. So the smoke was soon to be seen curling up from the mountain where the Great Spirit and his family lived and still live, though their hearth fire is alight no longer, now that the white man is in the land. This was thousands of years ago.

After this came a late and severe springtime, in which a memorable storm blew up from the sea, shaking the huge ledge to its base. The Great Spirit commanded his daughter, then little more than an infant, to go up and bid the wind to be still, cautioning her at the same time not to put her head out into the blast, but only to thrust out her little arm and make a sign before she delivered her message.

The eager child hastened up to the hole in the roof, did as she was told and then turned to descend, but her curiosity impelled her to look at the forbidden world outside and the rivers and trees, at the far ocean and the great waves that the storm had made as hoary as the forest when the snow is on the firs. So she stopped and put out her head to look. Instantly the storm took her by the long hair and blew her down to the earth, down the mountain side, over the smooth ice and soft snow, down to the land of the grizzly bears.

Now, the grizzly bears were then somewhat different from what they are at the present time. In appearance, it is true, they were much the same, but they walked then on their hind legs like men and talked and carried clubs, using the fore limbs as men use their arms. At the foot of the mountain, at the place where the child was blown to, lived a family of grizzlies. The father grizzly was returning from the hunt with his club on his shoulder and a young elk in his hand when he saw the shivering little girl lying on the snow with her hair all tangled about her.

The old grizzly, playing and wondering at the strange, forlorn creature, lifted it up and carried it in to his wife to see what should be done. She, too, was pitiful and fed it from her own breast, bringing it up as one of their family. So the daughter of the Great Spirit grew up, and the eldest son of the old grizzly married her, and their offspring was neither grizzly nor Great Spirit, but man.—Forest and Stream.

An Original Oath of Allegiance.
In the old days when the Spanish province of Aragon was a proud and independent monarchy the people used when choosing their king the following singular form of election:

"We, the freeborn inhabitants of the ancient kingdom of Aragon, who are equal to you, Don Philip, and something more, elect you to be our king on condition that you preserve to us our rights and privileges. If in this you should fail we own you for our king no longer."

The Red Ferns.

"Stop the auto!"
"But, sir—"
"I think I saw some red ferns."
"Better lemme keep on, boss," advised the chauffeur earnestly. "Them red ferns is the local constable's whiskers."—Washington Herald.

The Open Window.

The best part of a modern house is its windows. To keep these open day and night and to make the air inside approach as nearly as possible the air outside should be the first business of the housekeeper.—Good Health.

A Precaution.

"Every man is the architect of his own fortune," quoted the wise guy.
"Yes, but he wants to keep solid with the building inspectors," added the simple mug.—Philadelphia Record.

Reason Enough.

The Butler—What makes the missus in such a bad humor this morning?
The Maid—Some woman told her a secret last night, and she's forgotten it.—London Telegraph.

The web of our life is a mingled yarn, good and ill together.—Shakespeare.

Making More Than a Living

Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a low interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent. interest paid in savings department.

FOR GOOD SHOES
419 McKean Ave.

Here's an illustration of the famous RALSTON last—the last which has given RALSTON SHOES a national reputation for irreproachable style combined with perfect comfort.

As you probably know, all other lasts are flat across the bottoms—not so with Ralston Lasts—in which are represented every mound and every depression of the bottoms of your feet. It is only by combining "sole fit" with "upper fit" that a perfect fitting shoe can be made. That's why Ralstons need no breaking in.

If you want real foot comfort try a pair of RALSTON SHOES.
